

Does leaving for college mean leaving the church?

It doesn't have to. The College Transition Seminar is designed for college bound high school students and their parents, addressing the transition from high school to college. Hope and encouragement are offered to participants by challenging and equipping them to respond with solid and practical tools.

- ▶ Help high school students and their parents understand the pressures of college life.
- ▶ Equip students to live out their Christian faith on campus.

“ This seminar raises the bar on the college preparation process. You will hear some things that you won't hear anywhere else. My daughter (HS senior) said it was the 'best' large group presentation she has seen at our church. ”

— Pam Stroup, Director of Parent Ministries, McLean Bible Church, McLean, Virginia

“ The College Transition Seminar is the best seminar I've experienced for preparing students for the challenges they will face during college life. The presentation was excellent, true, and relevant for today's world. Every student needs this seminar. ”

— Troy De Bruin, Youth Pastor, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lancaster, PA

The seminar is led by Derek Melleby, director of the College Transition Initiative, a joint effort between the Center for Parent/Youth Understanding and the Coalition for Christian Outreach. Derek is the author of Make College Count: A Faithful Guide to Life and Learning (Baker Books) and the coauthor of The Outrageous Idea of Academic Faithfulness: A Guide for Students (Brazos Press).
